What Do You Think?

The proposed Mountain View entrance to Carmel Valley, if carried through, would have a considerable influence on the future of the community, but whether for its benefit or detriment appears to involve a difference of opinion. In the adjacent columns Mrs. Kathryn Ball has listed a number of disadvantages to the project that are worth serious consideration. On the other hand, a "straight shoot" to the Valley would be a great convenience to an increasing number of people who find it necessary to go back and forth between Carmel and the Valley communities.

The matter is of sufficient importance to us and the Valley to warrant a thorough airing. Carmel has always benefited by pooling of ideas, and the opinion of the citizens has traditionally guided the policies of the city council.

The Pine Cone will print gladly any thoughts, suggestions, comments the citizens may wish to express.

Make Mine Mobile

The Monterey Peninsula Labor Council has come up with the figures that only about 20 per cent of the citizens of this county eligible to vote have registered, and the labor council is of the opinion that it would be well worth while for County Clerk Emmet McMenamin to revive the old custom of "roving registrars."

Under the present system, for weeks preceding elections, the newspapers run little stories and editorials saying, "Now don't forget to register if you've just come of age, or if you're a newcomer who has been living here long enough to vote, or have moved from one house to another in the town," and, "If you'll drop into so and so's place of business or office you will find a registrar there."

The reader says, "Oh, yes, I must do that," and forgets, or remembers only when it is inconvenient to go. If he has a job, as likely as not the registration place is closed outside of working hours.

A roving registrar costs the county no more than any other species, and makes citizenship a good deal easier for people by calling at their homes or where they work.

The labor council has done a good job in bringing the matter to Mr. McMenamin's attention.

Glen Sorey New Deputy Assessor

Glen Sorey will be the deputy assessor for the city and county, City Clerk Peter Mawdsley said late yesterday.

Sorey, who recently sold his newsstand and tobacco store on Dolores, El Fumador, has been a resident of Carmel with Mrs. Sorey since 1926 and has his home on North Casanova street. The appointment, a temporary arrangement by which the county and city share salary expense, begins for the city February 20, for the county March 1, and expires June 20.

Citizen Objects To Proposed Mt. View Entrance To Valley

Editor of The Pine Cone:

In last week's Pine Cone a front page news story appeared which it seems to me should be carefully analyzed by every Carmel resident. A new arterial highway into the heart of Carmel is being proposed and is now under consideration by the County Board of Supervisors.

Under this plan Mountain View avenue is to be extended through Hatton Fields and joined to the Carmel Valley road. If this project succeeds, Valley traffic will pour into Carmel via Mountain View avenue and meet down-coming traffic on Ocean Avenue at the foot of the hill. This is a particularly dangerous type of intersection, as the two main highways would meet at an acute angle at this point, and make visibility almost impossible. Even a layman can see that this is an unreasonable and dangerous highway policy. The foot of a hill is not the place for a major highway intersection, especially where a sharp angle is involved. Safety should be a primary consideration, and this plan lacks all of the elements.

The safety factor is a most important one, as children going to and from High School must pass this intersection. In all probability a full-time traffic officer would be needed.

The whole project would be a great tax burden to the community with both city and county taxes involved. Many thoughtful citizens feel that the proposed highway is utterly unnecessary as existing roads can be improved and utilized.

Last but not least is the effect on the Forest Theatre, in the matter of noise alone. One cannot stop traffic because a theatrical performance may be going on. If the highway is permitted, the theatre must go. This is self-evident. We would lose one of the most unique theatres of its kind in the country and one of the oldest and most beloved institutions in Carmel.

It behooves us to get together and protect the things we cherish before it is too late.

—Kathryn U. Ball.

We Need China More Than China Needs Us, Says Dr. Morgan, UNRRA Officer, Now A Carmel Resident

BY GLENN CLAIRMONTE

Dr. O. S. Morgan, professor emeritus of Columbia University since 1943, has recently arrived from China and has settled with his sister, Miss Mabel Morgan, on Ocean Avenue at Camino Real. He intends to do some intensive resting and gardening, says he with a very broad smile on his long lean face. Incidentally he will also indulge in a little liaison work for China "in a humble capacity." Until the middle of December he was the director of UNRRA in Chekiang Province, China, and he has come home not only with a silver urn as a token of gratitude but also with a conviction that regardless of how much China needs the United States, even more emphatically the United States needs China.

"We have been living in a Garden of Eden—for 175 years rifling the natural resources of this continent," said Dr. Morgan, "but when they are drained we will find it expedient if our present-day statesmen have by that time made the friendship of China for our front line of supply. For nearly a third of a century I was part of an organization that had a world view: Columbia University under that great elder statesman, Nicholas Murray Butler, saw no regional boundaries. All the work undertaken by its staff was for the benefit of mankind in all parts of the globe. As a result of this intellectual environment I can only fail to understand how people in this country expect to advance if they do not promote the welfare of all other nations as well."

Although the work of UNRRA in China is now closed, Dr. Morgan insists that our work with that vast country has actually only begun. "As a nation we are young enough to anticipate early results from anything we do, and therefore, working with the garden variety of human nature, we first safeguard our own economy, sacrificing the longer view which would bring better results for our future. For example, in China, where the best trained men were needed, we had only those who could be spared from other services. Besides, by way of preparation, these third-selection men were given only a three-weeks' course in Washington before being sent over."

Dr. Morgan had for many years a keen reason for wanting to be of service to the Orient, and this was recognized by William J. Green who had to select a staff to take to China. Morgan had been born and raised in the Corn Belt, and agriculture had always been his special study, with the result that he could see the earth mainly as one wide opportunity for the production of life-sustaining foods. In 1925 he became agricultural adviser of the Near East Foundation and made surveys in fifteen countries of Middle Europe. Later he travelled through Japan and China and India, then through Argentina, Brazil, Uruguay, Trinidad, and the Caribbean Islands. In an aside he remarked that the conservation plan in the Virgin Islands, sponsored by Henry A. Wallace, was "a matter of significance to the world over." In 1945 he was a member of the Board of Economic Warfare in North Africa, Iraq, Palestine, Syria, The Lebanon, and other neighboring countries, trying to find a way to save battleships and wheat—arranging to grow wheat over there instead of having to

Abalone League Will Get Off To Snow-Shoe Start

With the hail beating outside while this is being written, the publisher announced that Abalone League starts ten days hence—in snow shoes if necessary—when the first practice of Carmel's most colorful sport and pastime, the traditional, quarter-century-old softball imbroglio, will be held at the high school field, 1:30 p. m., Sunday, February 15. This is about 20 days earlier than last year but not any earlier than in days of yore. Last year's play started March 9, and went over into May, which telescoped it into summer league softball, Cliff Cook, chairman of the league executive committee, explained. "Nobody wants this to happen again this year."

Sign ups for the league begin when you read this. Youngsters, women, and Lions Club members are eligible, as well as strong, fit, vigorous young men. Captains for the four ancient and honorable teams, Pilots, Shamrocks, Giants, and Tigers, will be chosen at the time of the first practice. The league series will start with its first doubleheader Sunday, February 22, and will continue for nine Sundays, the weather and the players' endurance permitting.

Sign up with Mike Balazs, Quality Grocery; Gene Ricketts, Ricketts and Freeman; Cliff Cook, The Pine Cone.

Executive committee, appointed Tuesday night by the Lions Club president, Mark Raggett, is made up of Mike Balazs, Waldo Hicks, Jack Whitesides, Gene Ricketts, and Clifford Cook, chairman.

Scout Week Plans Include Displays; Court Of Honor

Commemorating the founding of the Boy Scouts of America in February, 1910, Carmel Boy Scouts are celebrating the week beginning today, February 6, and ending next Thursday, February 12. Troop 32 sponsored by the Holy Name Society, has a Scout handicraft display in Fortier's Drug Store window while Troop 86, sponsored by the American Legion, has an exhibit in Burke's Hardware Store.

Next Wednesday evening there will be a Scout Court of Honor at 7:30 o'clock in the American Legion Hall. A colorful feature of the evening will be presentation of Troop colors and Troop flag to scouts of Troop 86, sponsored by the Legion. Other events on the program will include displays of Scout handicraft, demonstrations by Troops 32 and 86, and award of badges of rank for scout advancement. Handling the program are Colonel Thomas E. May and Speirs Russell, district committee members; and Bill Ellis, district commissioner. Invitational tickets are being given out by all scouts to encourage attendance. There is no admission charge and everyone is welcome.

Beginning last Thursday, February 5, and every other week thereafter, Boy Scout Troop 32 will meet at Frank deAmaral's barn in the Carmel Valley.

JOAN DEKKER ELECTED

Joan Elizabeth Dekker has been elected secretary of Jordan House, one of the women's residence units at Stanford University.

H. S. STUDENTS TO HAVE RECESS

Innovation at Carmel High School, a 15 minutes' recess for rest and relaxation between the second and third recitation periods in the morning session, was announced by Superintendent Stuart Mitchell this week.

The first period will remain 60 minutes in length, but the second and third periods will be shortened to 55 minutes each, allowing time for recess between them. The recess has been instituted on the recommendation of the health and guidance committees, made up of teachers and the student council.

The purpose is to allow the students to "get unwound," to relieve tension that results from three unbroken 60-minute periods of study and recitation. The students may amuse themselves in any way they choose on the school grounds or they may go to the cafeteria where milk and fruit will be for sale.

Dr. Sisson To Give Lincoln Lectures

The Carmel Adult School will celebrate the week of Lincoln's birthday by presenting two lectures by Dr. Edward O. Sisson, to be given at the Sunset School Tuesday and Wednesday, February 10 and 11, at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Sisson has been a devoted student of Lincoln for many years; he has lectured on the subject all the way from the Pacific Coast to the University of London. He makes no secret of his passionate admiration for Lincoln and he believes Americans have given far too little attention to him.

The lectures will deal mainly with two questions: First, in what way was Lincoln really a great man? Second, what can Lincoln's character and life mean to us in our own day—in 1948?

Miss Mabel Dodson Falls Dead While Walking To Town

Miss Mabel Dodson, who has been living at Monte Verde and 8th for the past ten years, fell dead on her way to town yesterday morning at about 10:30 a. m. The Red Cross Ambulance removed her to the Paul Funeral Home.

Deputy coroner Paul has been making arrangements to get in touch with her relatives in Chicago. Her affairs are being handled by her attorney, Wesley W. Kergan. Miss Dodson was an interior decorator before she retired and came to Carmel.

CARMEL-PACIFIC GROVE IN CLASH TONIGHT FOR B DIVISION CAGE TITLE

The winner of the 1948 B Division basketball league will be decided tonight when the Carmel Padres square off with the Pacific Grove Breakers on the Pacific Grove court. Pacific Grove is favored to hand a good shellacking on the small Padre varsity, but upsets have been known to occur and Padre fans are hoping for a reversal of form in this championship clash. Both teams have been defeated once in league play, with Pacific Grove losing to King City and Carmel bowing to the Breakers in their first meeting. While PG has several skyscrapers on their squad, the Padres are small and must rely on aggressive play to compensate for lack of size.

Probable starters for the Carmel varsity: Forwards, Phil Wettengel and Lew McCreedy; guards, Lee Winslow and Jim Hare; center, Frank Timmins. Sure to see plenty of action are Tom Handley, Dick Garguilo, Gene Vandevort, and Dick Weer. Lightweight teams, both of which are out of the running, will meet in the 7 o'clock preliminary.

Saturday night Carmel teams travel to Gilroy to tangle with the Mustangs in a return match. Carmel won both games on the local court, and the Mustangs are determined to get even on their home hardwood.

BOHLKE HIGH SCORER

Among the top scorers on the Salinas Junior College basketball team is Russ Bohlke, guard, Carmel High School graduate, who has chalked up 141 points so far this season.

SANTA BARBARA HERE FOR BOYS' CLUB BENEFIT GAME

Basketball as she should be played will be displayed for Peninsula cage fans on Saturday, February 14, when the Santa Barbara All-Americans provide the opposition for the Village All-Stars at the Carmel High School pavilion. The Santa Barbara squad is loaded with former college stars and boasts a real All-American in the person of Cab Curtis, coach and leading scorer for the club.

This game is being sponsored by the Boys' Club of Carmel to provide warmup jackets for their three shivering basketball teams.

Performing for Village All-Stars will be such good casaba artists as Ky Miyamoto, ball-handling magician, Russ Bohlke, Salinas Junior College's best, Finis Jeffers, Village League sensation, and a galaxy of other stars.

In a preliminary fracas, the Carmel Boys' Club heavies will again tangle with the Monterey Boys' Club, which threatens to be as hectic a struggle as their first meeting before the donkey basketball classic. The club teams went to it tooth and nail and had the fans on their feet for the last five minutes of the hot game.

CARMEL VARSITY WIN AND LIGHTS LOSE TO GONZALES

Lady Luck smiled on the Carmel varsity at Gonzales last Friday night and they managed to stay abreast of Pacific Grove in the torrid B Division basketball race. Hitting only 12 per cent of their shots the Padres still managed to stay in front for a 33-28 victory. Inability of Gonzales to hit their simple layup shots was a big factor in presenting Carmel with the victory.

Lee Winslow's nine points topped the Padre varsity scorers, and his accuracy at the free throw line brightened the evening for the Padres. Carmel went out in front at the beginning of the game and was never headed, although Gonzales put up a determined bid for the complete contest.

The Padre Babes played one of their best games of the year, but went down before the hustling play of the Spartan lights. The Carmel midgets were in front for the first half and pressed Gonzales all during the second canto, but fell behind in the last few seconds of play. Sparkling play by Lee Laugenour and Walt Frey featured the Babe attack, while Pat Dormody and Steve Whitaker turned in fine defensive games.

SALINAS CAGERS SHOW TOO MUCH POWER FOR VARSITY

Going slightly out of their class by meeting the Salinas High School basketball teams, the Carmel boys got a standoff for their Saturday night's work. The Padre Babes saved the honor of the small schools by giving the Salinas lights a 20-24 licking, but the Carmel heavies were no match for the classy Cowboy varsity and absorbed a 32-17 shellacking. The fact that the Cowbabs are leading the A Division limited race detracts not at all from the lustre of the local Babe's victory. Led by Lee Laugenour, who turned in a whale of a game, the Carmel lights went right to work on the Salinas lads and piled up a 14-2 lead during the first quarter. Although Salinas showed signs of offensive power during the second and third quarters, the locals managed to maintain their lead and coasted to a well-earned victory.

MONTEREY-CARMEL BASKETBALL TILT CHANGED TO FEBRUARY 10

The second Monterey-Carmel basketball game, originally scheduled for February 17, will be played on February 10, at 3:45 p. m. Interference with school activities was responsible for the change from the original date.

Carmel defeated Monterey in both lightweight and varsity tussles early in the year, but will run into lot stiffer opposition in the return tilts. The Monterey varsity is currently resting in second place in the strong A Division league, and the Toreador Babes are playing steady basketball.

HOLE IN ONE

Mrs. H. C. Hunt of Pebble Beach scored a hole-in-one on the tough 135 yard third hole at Cypress Point last Friday, a perfectly hit 2 iron landing just short of the pin and rolling into the cup. Witnessing the ace was Mrs. Frances A. Elkins of Monterey.

BING IN RAIN-CHECK

Bing Crosby played in the weekly Rain-Check golf tournament at the Cypress Point Club last Saturday. His partner was Harold L. Mack, while Vincent Whitney and Harrison Godwin completed the foursome.

PISTOL CLUB GATHERS

The Carmel Pistol Club will gather Monday, February 9, at 7:30 p. m., for a dinner meeting at La Ribera Hotel. Mr. Gil Severns,

Snow Peaks Next Subject For Graves' Nature Program

Last Monday evening colored slides of Grand Canyon National Park were shown by C. Edward Graves in the fifth of the ten-program series that he is giving for the Carmel Adult School. Both the north and the south rim areas were covered and also a trip to the Phantom Ranch in the gorge of the Colorado River.

Next Monday evening the subject will be the snow peaks of northern California and central Oregon; Lassen Peak; Mount Shasta; and the Three Sisters area of the Oregon Cascade Range lying between Eugene and Bend along the McKenzie Highway.

An article by Mr. Graves entitled, In the Three Sisters Primitive Area, has appeared in the winter issue of The Living Wilderness, magazine published by the Wilderness Society at 1840 Mintwood Place, Washington, D. C.

"The Wilderness Society is an organization of people who are trying by every means possible to protect our few remaining wilderness areas from commercial exploitation in order that our children and grandchildren may have the benefit of a few unspoiled forest and desert and mountain regions for recreational and inspirational purposes," Mr. Graves points out and adds, "The minimum membership fee is $1.00, in return for which members have the knowledge that they are helping in some small way to preserve these wilderness areas. They also receive the quarterly magazine of the organization, The Living Wilderness."

DUNCAN McALLISTER PASSES

Word has been received from John Catlin that Robert Duncan McAllister, Bob to his friends, died suddenly in his hotel room in Santa Fe, New Mexico, on January 29. Mr. McAllister was born in Cleveland where he attended various art schools; he spent the last twenty years of his life in and about Carmel, choosing the Valley for his home. Mr. McAllister executed fine figurines in stone which had been exhibited at different times in the Carmel Art Gallery.

Stuart Ward Will Speak For G.O.P. Lincoln Day Program

The Monterey Peninsula Republican Women will hold their Lincoln Day program at 8:00 p. m., February 12, in the San Carlos Sky Room. When Stuart Richardson Ward of San Francisco will speak on What Must Be the United States Foreign Policy Today?

Mr. Ward has been a writer and editor for the past 23 years and has attained national prominence as Town Hall moderator and debater, and also as president of the Western Governmental Research Association. Guy Curtis of the Monterey County Central Committee will assist in the arrangements which are in charge of the following officers: Mrs. Karl Higer, president; Mrs. Durbin Saffers, Mrs. Lowell Bowhay, Mrs. Arthur Smiley, Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, Mrs. Rodney Mason, and Mrs. Milton Marquard.

James Niswonger

James O. Niswonger, 84, for many years a resident of Carmel Highlands, last Saturday died from a heart attack while on a visit to San Francisco. Funeral rites were conducted at St. Dominic's Church in San Francisco Monday afternoon.

He is survived by his wife, Florence Niswonger of the Highlands, by a son, Richard Niswonger of Belvedere, and by a daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Miller of San Francisco.

HOUSING NEEDED FOR NAVY

Residents of Monterey and San Benito Counties are urged to open their homes to 150 more naval officers in order that all may be adequately housed before February 20 when the full personnel of the Del Monte Naval School will report for duty. Lt. Commander Robert Ahearn, housing officer, who has already found accommodations for 66 naval families in many adjacent communities, is prepared to take care of listings.

Honest Rainmaker Makes No Claim For Sunday Storm

Aerial rainmakers dropped 20 pounds of dry ice into a fat cloud over Carmel Sunday afternoon. Strong winds blew the cloud toward Salinas, making observations difficult, but Dallas Edgar, the pilot, observed a few streamers of rain. The showers which struck Carmel later were not caused by the experiment, Edgar said, nor could dry ice dropped later by Salinas fliers have had any effect on the Carmel rain.

The ice was dropped into the cloud at a height of 9,000 feet, and in one sense the experiment was a complete success: neither Edgar nor his companion, Clarence Krug, suffered any casualties from the dry ice.

Plans For Church Shown At Meeting

At the annual meeting of All Saints' Episcopal Church last Wednesday plans for the new church building to be erected on Dolores at Ninth street were exhibited by the architect, Reginald Inwood of Carmel Highlands and Laguna Beach. The elevation showed a modified Mission-style adobe painted cream color, with a red-tiled roof. Covered walks will connect the church with the vestry, the rector's study and the administrative offices bordering on Dolores street. Covered ramp will lead to the church door and to the Lady Chapel. The designer has taken into consideration the protection of all the pine trees on the property. The planning committee, composed of Mrs. Rush R. Wallace, Mrs. Vera Peck Millis, Bruce Bacon, Dr. Walter Lehmann and the Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe, announced that building probably could be commenced within the year.

Turkey dinner was served to the 100 parishioners present, at tables decorated with branches of peach blossoms, by a committee headed by Mrs. Sidney Williams (nee Martha Millis.)

LINCOLN LECTURE

The current literature group which usually meets Tuesday evenings for discussions conducted by Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte will this week omit their session in order to hear Dr. E. O. Sisson's lecture on Abraham Lincoln in Sunset Auditorium. They will again convene in Room 11 of Sunset School at 7:30 on February 17.

SUSIE HUNT

The golden haired cocker spaniel you see lounging elegantly about Gump's, is Susie, who arrived by air express from Dallas, Texas, to make her home in Carmel with her master, Mr. Hank Bragoitti. Susie caused a terrific commotion Saturday morning when she suddenly disappeared. All Carmel and all Carmel's children were out hunting for her and Rose Brown offered a reward. One woman even brought in a stray spaniel, hoping it was the lost Susie. Then the news came in: Susie was found. Miss Brown distributed the reward between seven children and heaved a sigh of relief. Hank had had her all the time!

Mary Reese To Play For M.A.C. Concert

A talented young pianist, Mary Reese, will be the featured artist of the next Musical Art Club concert, to be presented on Sunday afternoon, February 15, at 2:30, in the Golden Bough Theater on Monte Verde street.

Miss Reese began her music studies at the age of four with Philo Becker as her instructor. She continued with him until his death in 1944. Her public appearances commenced with the first of a series of annual recitals at the tender age of five years. At this time she played the Mozart concerto. When she was 13 she played in the semi-finals of the KFI Philharmonic competition. The same year she won first place in the Glendale Symphony competition, and first place in a national audition. When Dr. Richard Lert conducted the Pasadena Civic orchestra as guest conductor, she was invited to play the Mendelssohn concerto with the orchestra.

At the invitation of its conductor she also played with the San Fernando Valley Symphony, this at the age of 14. Since then her

FOUR BIRDIES

A foursome of golfers playing the tough 503 yard, par 5 6th hole at Cypress Point last week had a total score of 16 on the hole. That's four birdies, a very unusual achievement on any course. Charles M. Daniels, assistant pro, Woody Lamb, Francis Shea and James Tyrie were the players.

Theodore Chinn

Theodore S. Chinn, 70, who has been employed by Grant Stephenson in Pebble Beach for the past 17 years, died February 2 at a local hospital after a short illness. He was a native of San Francisco but had lived on the Peninsula for 32 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Chinn, by a son, Father Celestine of the Franciscan Order at the Santa Barbara Mission, and by three daughters: Mrs. Marie Seckel, Mrs. Carmel Camacho and Mrs. Rafael Perry, all of San Francisco.

Rosary was said Wednesday evening and services were held at the T. A. Dorney Funeral Home yesterday morning at 9:00 o'clock, followed by requiem mass at San Carlos Church. Interment took place at the Monterey Catholic Cemetery.

TOWN HALL SPEAKER

Creative artist, lecturer and teacher, Edmund Giesbert will appear on the next Town Hall meeting at Sunset Auditorium, tonight, at 8:00 p. m. Mr. Giesbert, winner of the Logan Prize for his painting "Uphill," and now associated with the University of Chicago and the Chicago Art Institute, will make "Painting a Portrait" the subject of the program, and will illustrate the essential elements of portrait painting by painting the portrait of a member of the audience while delivering his address.

DAWSON NOT GUILTY

Donald Dawson was found not guilty by a jury, after 35 minutes' deliberation, in the Monterey Justice Court before Judge Ray Baugh Wednesday afternoon, having been charged with carrying a firearm into the refuge area at the mouth of the Carmel River. District Attorney Anthony Brazil prosecuted the case on the ground that hunting is illegal in the disputed Monterey Peninsula Game Refuge.

MARY BURR IN N. Y. BALLET

Mary Burr, featured dancer in the New York Ballet Company which opens at the Curran Theatre in San Francisco for a week's run on Sunday, has been visiting old friends in Carmel. She used to be Social Editor of The Pine Cone and more recently was the leading dancer in the successful production of The Lute Song. In her present capacity she will be presented at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York during the first week in April.

STUFFED EGG BALL

That wonderful annual fiesta, the Cascerone, in which eggshells stuffed with confetti are broken over fair ladies' heads, in which the costumes of Old Monterey are worn, and the gaiety and color are in the high-tempoed Spanish tradition, will take place at the Mission Ranch this Saturday night. Both rooms at the ranch will be used and at 9:00 o'clock there will be a Grand March led by Mayor and Mrs. Hugh Dormody. Little children in costume will be placed about the room selling the stuffed eggshells which the women have been saving all year-round for the occasion. The ball is given by the Monterey Civic Club and any tickets left over will be sold to the public. Around 500 people are expected.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Spirit" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, February 8, with the Golden Text taken from Romans: "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you" (8:9).

The following citations are included in the sermon:

Psalms: "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me" (139: 7, 9, 10).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is infinite, the only Life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man" (p. 330).

The Rev. Theodore Bell
Chaplain

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a place apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life. The Chapel is open all day. Those who seek in its stillness to grow more conscious of God's presence do not go unrewarded. Sunday services at 8 and 11 a. m. This Chapel is opposite the Naval School, just outside Monterey, on Fremont Street.

Completing the roster of executives for the coming semester, the class officers were elected and installed last Monday. Those retiring from office in the senior class, having served one semester, were: President, Lew McCreery; vice-president, Nelson Byers; secretary,

Joy Westcott, and treasurer, Rod Dewar. Chosen to serve on the executive council were Joan McGrath and Bill Johnson. The seniors also selected their graduations suits as June draws near, white for the girls and dark blue for the boys.

The class of 1950 chose Ed Goodrick, president; Joan Daniels, vice-president; Ann Whitaker, secretary; Christine Melvido, treasurer, and Shirley Elliott and Jim Hare class representatives, to guide them through the coming months, as Legare McNeill, Stephen Whitaker, Shirley Elliott, and Edelen Cory saw their terms expire.

Peggy Hammer, Ted Brand, Edwin Brown, and Neil Reimers were elected to office by the freshmen as Bill Daniels, Jim Moran, Carol Templeman, and Carol Smith retired from their positions. Thor Rasmussen and Carol Templeman will take their places on the executive committee as ninth grade representatives.

The Girls' Athletic Association commenced the semester by electing four new officers: President, Rosemarie Krupocki; vice-president, Pat Timbers; secretary, Louise Harber; and treasurer, Betty Goulart. Having been very active during the past few months, the GAA is planning several outstanding activities in the near future.

Sponsor of the football banquet and other successful events, the Block C chose as its executives for the coming term: Lew McCreery, president; Mat Schmutz, vice president; and Frank Timmins, secretary.

Hoping for the first real snow of the year, 26 ski enthusiasts plan to leave today for Long Barn and a weekend of winter sports. Those looking forward to enjoying the white snow of the Sierra are: Basil Allaire, Bob Barry, John Fortier, Sherrie Henderson, Doris May, Nancy Brown, Jim Harget, Carmelita Fortier, Edelen Cory, Christine Melvido, Shirley Elliott, Barry Daggy, Barbara Berg, Nancy McCarthy, Joy Westcott, Jennifer Lloyd, Peter Berg, Sunny Cook, Joan McGrath, Joyce Bannerman, and "Biz" Carr, accompanied by equally enthusiastic chaperones: Stuart Mitchell, Robert M. Brown, Leo Kohler, Richard Hagadorn, Dr. Slipner Elliott, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cook.

NO "MRS." NEED APPLY

William Lee Bradley, now in Scotland on an exchange fellowship while preparing for the ministry, has written to his mother, Kathryn Bradley of Casanova street, one of his discoveries of the old Scottish customs: "The advocates' wigs, required for any appearance in court, have always been made of the hair of virgin camels plucked (not cut) in the springtime during the moulting."

Campbell Wins Guilty Verdict In Moran Case

Dr. James D. Moran of Pebble Beach was found guilty on a morals charge by a jury returning verdict at 4:45 p. m., January 29, after a three-day trial prosecuted by Gordon Campbell, deputy district attorney of Monterey County.

Judge Reynolds of San Benito County presided and will pronounce sentence Friday, February 13. Dr. Moran was represented by R. W. Shellooe of Salinas and Joseph Scott of Los Angeles County. The latter attorney achieved national prominence when he made the nomination speech supporting Herbert Hoover for president at the Republican National Convention in 1928, and more recently he defended Joan Barry in the widely publicized paternity case against Charlie Chaplin.

Dr. Moran's attorneys offered the defense that their client had been irresponsible at the time of the crime, because of his nervous condition, and also that he had been intimidated at the point of a gun. They asked for probation.

Sergeant William I. Danley of Fort Ord, who was apprehended along with Dr. Moran, December 4, had previously pleaded guilty and been given probation.

MRS. CLARK ON JURY

Mrs. Charlotte K. Clark has been appointed a member of the 1948 Monterey County Grand Jury impanelled last week by Superior Judge H. G. Jorgenson.

The films, Feeling of Rejection, and What's On Your Mind, will be shown to the public free of charge at 7:30 p. m., Monday, February 9, in the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium, as part of the Freedom From Anxiety program of the Let Freedom Ring series. This project is under the sponsorship of the Pacific Grove Parent Teachers Association, the Mental Hygiene Society, the American Association of University Women, the Council for Civic Unity and the League of Women Voters. Norman Naas will preside and the guests of honor will be Mrs. Roger Gammors, Dr. Paul Carnig, Eldon Covell, Rita Hazeltine, Lois Frost, and Patricia Pinkston.

Margaret Swayze

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Swayze, 48, proprietor of Mar-Gret's Beauty shop on Dolores at Sixth street, died last Sunday in her home at San Carlos and Third. New Shows At The Art Gallery

BY NANCY LOFTON

There is a considerable amount of nostalgic and genteel painting in the new general oil show hanging for the month of February in the Carmel Art Association Gallery. There are several lively canvases, however, and the show makes an interesting cross-section view of painting on the Peninsula, though a little weighted down on one side. Maxine Albro's large and luminous fish fairly pounce from the wall to lead you into the oil gallery where you'll find a surrealist harpy by Louisa Jenkins keeping company with the gentle Carolina mists of William P. Silva's half-remembered southern morning. The most successful painting in the oil room is Patricia Cunningham's lyric arrangement of gulls sweeping in a cloud about the fishing boats. Her color seems to follow naturally from her feeling, and the canvas is given a buoyant and joyous life.

Will Irwin makes a startling departure from his usual style in his freshblown canvas of blooming trees and achieves something reminiscent of Thomas Hart Benton, but rather charming. Sam Harris' figure, presumably Saint Peter, demands more than a passing glance, and there is some interesting painting in DeNeale Morgan's Lilacs and Marjorie Pegram's Landscape, Landscapes by Thomas McGlynn, Zenas Potter, Dorothy Wallgreen, Marjorie Doolittle, Ferdinand Burgdorff, Arthur Hill Gilbert, Hoyland Bettinger; seascapes by William Ritschel, Frank Myers and Armin Hansen; other pictures, including figure studies, still life paintings and portraits, by Lee Randolph, Kent Daniels, Florence True, Leslie Buck and Henrietta Shore complete the oil show which will hang until March 1.

The water color show in the Beardsley Memorial Room in the Carmel Gallery has been changed for the month of February, but the change is not startling. The show is well hung and includes a nice solid water color of the wharf by Royden Martin, a poignant and lonely landscape by James Vance, a delightful white pelican by Paul Mays and an efficient hillscape by Paul Whitman. Other painters whose work makes the water color show interesting are Maxine Albro, Pauline Pierson, Rama Stearns, Harold Helvenston, Alvin Beller, Joe Moodey, Tom Valiant, E. R. Burroughs, Rollin Pickford, Jr., William Olsen, Charles B. Rogers, William Watts, Sam Colburn, William Ritschel and Laura Maxwell.

Maxine Albro's retrospective one man show is by far the most interesting thing in the Carmel Gallery this week. This exhibition, containing lithographs, drawings, oil paintings and one pastel drawing, will hang for two weeks in the entrance alcove of the oil gallery. The exhibition is a group of solid and frequently beautiful work created by a painter generally known for her decorative canvases. Maxine Albro's use of color is always pleasing. She has a generally un-failing sense of what is right for her purposes. Her line is fluid and strong and she is capable of considerable weight. The large oil head of an Indian girl from Te-huantepec is very satisfying, and so is the painting of the churchyard of Churubusco. Her lithographs and drawings from Taxco have a distinctly pleasing and decorative character, and beyond that a solid ability to translate the thing seen or felt to the spectator by means of black and white line.

The paintings of the Churubusco Convent convey well Miss Albro's reactions to form and color. It seems that she found in Mexico her native place. The show contains an interesting and cohesive body of work and is well worth a visit to the gallery.

Library Receives Books And Picture From Morgan Estate

Mrs. Daisy Taylor, executrix of the estate of Charlotte E. Morgan, has delivered to the Harrison Memorial Library Mrs. Morgan's bequest of art books and also the artist's oil painting of Junipero street, which has been hung on the south wall.

Miss Elizabeth Niles, the librarian, is holding for ready reference by the public a memory book kept by Mrs. Morgan from her early student days at the Mark Hopkins Art Institute in the '90s until the date of her death.

World Day Of Prayer To Be Observed At All Saints' Church

Monterey Peninsula Council of Church Women, led by Mrs. Ramsey Benson of Carmel, president, will observe the World Day of Prayer at All Saints' Church next Friday, February 13, beginning with box lunch in the parish house at 12:30, followed by short business meeting, with the ritual service in the sanctuary beginning at 2:00 p. m. All women's religious organizations on the Peninsula are invited to join in the service, which has been arranged by the national C. C. W. for use in meetings throughout the Christian world.

The first service of the 24 hours will take place far in the Pacific on the Fiji islands, just west of the International Date Line, and as the day advances will travel around the world in gatherings in every country, finally closing on Pacific islands just east of the date line. Theme for the day is the World at Prayer, and the motto for all Christians is Each One Reach One. Peoples using 1,068 languages and dialects will hold services during the day.

On the Monterey Peninsula Mrs. John W. Dickinson, radio chairman of the local C. C. W., will broadcast over KDON at 10:15 to 10:30 the opening message, Prayer Around the World, written by the Reverend Douglass G. Decherd, pastor of the Methodist Church in Pacific Grove. An offering will be taken at the afternoon meeting to be shared equally for home and foreign missions, with educational institutions and literature for backward peoples coming in for a generous amount. Final services of the day will be held on St. Lawrence island in the Arctic ocean and the Tonga islands in the tropics, as the day ends on earth. The ritual for the day was prepared by a committee that is interdenominational, international, and interracial, to represent all people of the earth.

—FOURTEEN YEARS ON MONTEREY PENINSULA—

The Time Has Come . .

By KIPPY STUART

February is the last call for pruning perennials. In our mild climate one cannot wait until so-called Spring, for by the time April comes along, we are plunging into summer. The sap in perennials begins to flow early in March and pruning must be done before that period. Cotoneaster, one of the loveliest shrubs, with its tall, feathery fronds, should not only be pruned, but should also be thinned out to allow sunlight to penetrate. Sunlight helps to eradicate pests and cotoneaster is subject to aphides, in a big way. Recently I saw a majestic cotoneaster that was one mass of black smudge. It looked as though black soot had been dumped over the entire bush. The stems were brittle and dry, and crowded deep in the heart of the bush was a forest of dead wood. Shrubs and trees cannot thrive when hampered by a mass of dead wood that should have been trimmed away years ago. Spray and pruning may help a cotoneaster that has gotten into this bad shape, but it is problematic. Left too long, nothing can restore a damaged bush.

Escallonia is one of the best windbreaks we have. Escallonia rubra has clusters of red flowers; escallonia rosea has clusters of pink flowers. This shrub grows to noble proportions. Coprosma, also called the looking-glass tree, is good for bordering property that cannot be watered continually. Once a coprosma gets a good start, away she goes and has no pest that I have ever discovered. All of these shrubs respond to drastic pruning, and when you prune, keep an eye for shape. Prune toward their future use; tall for shelter, short for trim borders.

There are many varieties of acacia and each has its own use. If you want a really superb hedge, try acacia verticillata. This does not resemble any other acacia you have ever seen; it is a bush, not a tree. For sheer, soft beauty, this shrub has them all beaten. Verticillata is a rapid grower, gaining feet while other shrubs put out inches. The arching branches may be left to grow into a soft mass, in which case it will shower bright, yellow flowers. Verticillata makes the most superb hedge of all. The finest hedge of this shrub I have ever seen is on the left side of the Monterey hill, travelling north. The house number, 1340, is cut into the hedge and it is the first hedge you come to after leaving Carmel enroute to Monterey. Take a look at this beauty, and go and do likewise. Nothing that you can plant will give you the rapid returns of verticillata. I know of no

EUROPEAN TRAVELERS BACK

After three months of travel in Europe Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Colliard are back in Carmel and will soon open their Carmel Chop House. Mrs. Colliard says that it almost looked as though they weren't going to get back at all, boats were so crowded and booked so far ahead, everyone in Europe apparently trying to get over the water to the United States. They visited in France, Holland, and Switzerland, but due to red tape difficulties, gave up trying to get into Italy and other countries they would have enjoyed seeing.

pest that attacks this hedge if it is kept in a healthy condition, and once started, it requires small care.

If you have a ploroma bush, or tree, be sure and prune this month. The ploroma will still have showers of large purple flowers but we must prune just the same. Shape the ploroma for bush or tree and don't be afraid to cut and cut plenty. If there are any criss-cross branches, prune them out, and cut off all the buds that are now on the tree. You'll be surprised next summer at the results.

A waggish friend remarked to me the other day, that since reading this column he can now tell the difference between the birds and the flowers. Oh well . . .

Have You Read . . . ?

San Francisco Is Your Home by Samuel Dickson, Stanford University Press, $3.50.

BY BETH INGELS

To those who have enjoyed the Sunday morning broadcasts of "This Is Your Home," as narrated by Budd Heyde, this book will bring a great amount of new interest and pleasure. Many of the tales have been broadcast, but they have been revised to appeal to the reader, rather than to the listener.

Mr. Dickson seems to have an inexhaustible fund of anecdotes about the important men and women who took part in the development of San Francisco and, because he has done a great deal of research, the result here is a volume of stories that are not only authentic, but fascinating as well.

He has divided the volume into: The Days of Gold, The Comstock, The Railroad, and Champagne, The End of the Century and The City Comes of Age. The author was raised in San Francisco and he not only knows his subject thoroughly but also has a deep love for it. He writes: "I have tried from time to time to put into words a reason why San Franciscans—why I love San Francisco. And all the reasons I have ever given are all still true. But added to them, I think, is the fact that I really learned to know and love San Francisco when I saw it go through disaster and fire, and then laugh and make a picnic, and only stop the picnic and the laughter to begin the task of rebuilding anew." And—in another chapter—he says: "The gay array of flower stands, and the mystery of ominous alleys; smart women and disreputable waifs; strong men, and beggars and dreamers and thieves—these are the color of the city that is San Francisco."

A recent visit to San Francisco brought back a great feeling of nostalgia to the reviewer. I had not been there in a long time and I think I had almost forgotten what a wonderful city it was. And then reading Mr. Dickson's book immediately following this visit brought back memories that I really had forgotten.

In the first section, the author writes of the fabulous Sam Brannan, Biscaccianti, early fires and the formation of fire companies, the Tragic Tragedian—Edwin Booth and other colorful figures of San Francisco's past.

The second part deals with Adolph Sutro and his part in the development of the Comstock Lode; Black Bart, in which the author dispels many of the legends that have grown up around this man; Lotta Crabtree, early minstrels, and, finally, Emperor Norton.

Lucky Baldwin, David Belasco, Robert Louis Stevenson, Ina Coolbrith, Ambrose Bierce, George Sterling and Jane Lathrop Stanford make up the third section, while the final part deals mostly with the author's own memories of the city he loves. A most interesting chapter is that on San Francisco's restaurants which is called Mardikian and Food. He writes: "The main difference, today and yesterday, between San Francisco and most other cities, is that in the other cities people eat to refuel their bodies and revive their energy. But the dyed-in-the-wool San Franciscan says: 'Let's go out for dinner and enjoy ourselves.'"

Anyone who has ever lived in San Francisco will enjoy this book, and those who have never lived or visited there, will want to after reading it. It is hoped that Mr. Dickson will find time some one of these days to do another volume on stories about California as a whole and include in it chapters on such subjects as E Clampus Vitus, his excellent version of the Sherman Rose legend and other anecdotes which have charmed Sunday morning listeners of "This Is Your Home."

GANDHI OF INDIA

*How shall we mourn you from the little height
To which, for all our efforts, we have climbed?
When far above us in the snow-pure light
Your vision ranges over space and time.
From where we stand the stress of loss and gain
Directs the impulse of the mind and heart;
Rarely if ever do our lives attain
That state from which all ties of self depart.*

*The air we breathe is heavy with concern
For earthly goods, possession, learning, power—
With these we cloak our poverty of soul.
But from your sky-clear summit you discern
Their meagre worth within the cosmic hour—
No time-born fragment blinds you to the whole.*

SIERRA PLACE NAMES

I

*Years ago, some learned men
From college halls and life secure
Whether for science or delight
Followed the wild walks of Muir.*

*They made the path before the trail;
The jigsaw chartings piece by piece
They studied out, and over all
They pinned the classic names of Greece.*

*Wherefore I stand in this deep cleft;
Charybdis looms before my eyes,
And south across the canyon floor
A stony sister Scylla lies.*

II

*But names are not of Greece alone
And many a bold man breathed this air
Who spoke no language but his own;
He left a nomenclature here.*

*Of these gulch riders, tough cowhands
And shepherds, yet some names endure;
Named Bloody Canyon for a deed
And for its steepness, Hell-for-Sure;*

*Dog Lake, Sheep Mountain, Ragged Spur
Were cursed and christened, but I know
They used this kingdom with rough love
Who named Sky-Parlor Meadow so.*

III

*And lost to memory, what names
Repose now in the cloudy crest
Beside the splintered tamahawk
Where warriors of Kaweah rest?*

*Straight and tall the tamarack
Upon the high Chagoopa grow
As grew the braves who felt attack
And lost a kingdom years ago.*

*Their warwhoop echoes still, but what
Of all the unrecorded days
When men with odious, strange tongues
Lived here and grunted out their praise?*

*And this Charybdis that I climb
Perhaps named Meegow, and divine.*

Carmel Story . . .

THE HOUSE OF MARTIN—CHAPTER V.

BY DAISY BOSTICK

The Indians of John Martin's day were as a rule peaceful and law-abiding but when they were able to buy whisky in Monterey they became belligerent. One day Martin was walking over the trail to Monterey when two Indians on horseback approached him and forced him to halt. After a bit they left as suddenly as they had come and he continued his trip. In a matter of a few minutes they galloped back toward him and with no warning one of them fired a shot which hit him in the back, grazing his back bone. He fell to the ground badly wounded but was able to see the Indians escaping over to the Mesa.

After a time Martin was picked up by some travelers who took him to Monterey where he told his story. A posse was immediately formed to go out and bring in the culprits and as a result of Martin's clear account of the incident, they were found on the Mesa and brought in to face their victim who easily identified the one who fired the murderous shot. The guilty man was escorted to the Cuartel and hanged forthwith without benefit of expense or red tape. John Martin suffered from that wound for the balance of his life and was never again able to do any work that called for exertion of strength.

The Martin family raised most of their own food and in Monterey bartered butter and eggs for staples in groceries. There were just three methods of transportation to Monterey—going by wagon, riding horseback and walking. One day John's brother Robert started to walk over the hill when suddenly he came face to face with a large grizzly bear which was blocking his path. When asked afterward what he did about it, he replied calmly: "O I just gave him the trail!"

Nor was the education of the Martin children neglected. The Stewart clan, being the oldest, made the round trip daily on horseback to the Carmel Valley School, six miles from their ranch. Their teacher was Edward Berwick who was so intimately associated with Robert Louis Stevenson during the latter's short sojourn on the Peninsula in 1879. Later when the younger children had reached school age they all attended the Bay School which by that time had been established at the mouth of San Jose Creek. At one time their teacher was Fred Feliz, now retired Monterey attorney living up the Valley. The large family of Martins probably made up the greater part of the school registration.

Andrew Stewart must have been a gay young blade in those days, as he raced his horse with the young Spaniards up and down Alvarado street in Monterey. Isabel Leidig says reminiscently:

"Andrew always liked a nice horse and took great pride in decorating his saddles and harness, and on days that he drove his cart, it was bright with flags and bunting. His horse Billy learned to open gates and the animal was so sensitive that when he was scolded he would deliberately walk into the lagoon, stand and look defiantly at anyone trying to get near him."

Andrew spent most of his time on horseback. Sometimes when in Monterey, he would decide to go to Salinas, and when Billy's nose was turned in the opposite direction from home he would keep up a running fire of loud neighs and strange sounds—all of which caused the rider much embarrassment. Andrew married Catherine Roseboom, daughter of the A. H. Rosebooms of Carmel, whose house at the corner of Lincoln and Santa Lucia still stands although much changed in size, color and proportions from the original house. The young Stewarts settled in the Valley where they have lived ever since. Their home is an imposing one and is built of Carmel stone. They have one daughter, Mary Stewart.

Enroll In Utah

Two students from Monterey Peninsula are among 340 Californians listed in the record 1947-48 registration of 4,603 at Brigham Young University. Students enrolled are Dan Clair Robison, Robles del Rio, and Roy Sherman Hunton, Carmel. Mr. Robison is the son of Mrs. Irene Cobiseeno, a graduate of Carmel high school, and a freshman at BYU studying engineering and architecture. Mr. Hunton, son of Mr. J. M. Hunton, Culver City, is a graduate of Rawlins, Wyoming, high school, and is a junior majoring in chemistry.

Church Women Reception

Honoring the official observer to the United Nations and delegate to the United Nations Organization from the United Council of Church Women, protestant women of the Monterey Peninsula will hold a reception for Miss Mabel Head of Cleveland, Ohio, next Sunday afternoon, February 8, at 3:00 o'clock at the Methodist Church in Pacific Grove, under direction of the local C. C. W.

She will speak on Sunday morning at the 9:30 service at the Church of the Wayfarer as well as at the afternoon meeting in Pacific Grove. Mrs. Ramsey Benson, president of Monterey Peninsula C. C. W. invites all women interested in women's influence toward peace, and men as well, to attend the afternoon reception.

Women Voters

Meeting to round out the two-months study of legislative problems, the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters had lunch at Pine Inn last Friday before taking up the day's business. Miss Lydia Weld, first vice-president, conducted the meeting, and Mrs. Frances Ballard, legislative chairman, led the discussion and voting on suggestions to the state and national boards for changes in legislative processes to be favored by the League.

The members voted that the League president appoint a committee to study local government—city council, sanitary district, etc.—and local conditions. As to state government, the majority of members approved the present legislative organization rather than a unicameral body.

After the business the group saw and enjoyed the film, Roundtrip, the United States in World Trade, presented and discussed by D. R. Jeffers, head of the Monterey Public Library. The next subjects to be studied by the League are international relations, and the atomic bomb.

Formal Service

Friday evening, January 20, at 8:00 o'clock in the Church of the Wayfarer, Dorothy Shauer became the bride of Donald Herbert Smythe in a formal candlelight service. The wedding guests were all family members, and gathered for a reception at Del Monte Lodge after the ceremony. Mr. Smythe is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Hudson Smythe of Stockton and Pebble Beach, and is a graduate of the College of the Pacific. Miss Shauer, also of Stockton, completed finishing school at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, and took her degree at the University of California at Berkeley, where she was a Pi Beta Phi. The couple will make their home in Stockton. Mr. Smythe, with his brother, Hudson Smythe, Jr., will operate the Smythe estate in the San Joaquin valley.

Ranch Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gallway and Mrs. H. B. Drescher of Sacramento were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hergenbau of Carmel Valley at a dinner party Tuesday night at the Holman Ranch.

Teacher Takes Trip

Miss Henrietta Shore left for San Francisco last Wednesday after her Adult School creative art class session and returned at noon Friday in time for her class that day. Miss Shore's afternoon classes are combinations of portrait painting, flower and petal work, outdoor sketching, or anything, in wide range, that the occasion demands. Monday night Miss Shore teaches a life drawing class.

Guest Organist

Another in the series of guest organists to be heard at the Organ Vespers at the Church of the Wayfarer will be Miss Dorothy Heer, organist at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Salinas. She will play on Wednesday, February 11, at the regular hour from 5:15 until 6:00 p. m. Featured in her program will be selections that are known and loved by many. This idea of presenting a 45 minute program of organ music for the entire community originated with Mr. Albert M. Lester of Carmel, and in the weeks since the inception of the program on December 3, hundreds of Carmelites have enjoyed the program played by the finest organists on the Monterey Peninsula. The response of the community has made it mandatory for the Church of the Wayfarer and the guest organists to continue the weekly feature. Organist for the following Wednesday will be Mr. Marion Goswick of Carmel, according to Miss Margaret Sherman Lea, who directs the setting up of the program.

Engaged

Friends for a long time, Louise McClure of San Francisco and Lilik Schatz of Big Sur and Berkeley have decided to make it permanent with marriage vows. Miss McClure designs and weaves textiles; Mr. Schatz is known for his brilliant modern paintings.

To Visit Son

Henry Temianka, violinist of the Paganini Quartet, has just flown to San Francisco from New York to visit his wife in the hospital and make the acquaintance of his newborn son, before sailing for Europe, where he and his colleagues have a full season of engagements. He will return to Paganini Villa in the Highlands next summer, bringing his wife and baby with him.

Adult Classes

If you wish to add up college credits, the Monterey Union Adult School gives credits for attendance at its night classes. Adults who wish to attend evening college classes, on an adult basis, should enroll at the College Office where a complete schedule of college classes may be obtained. Of special interest are evening college classes in English, Italian, mathematics, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, business, and radio for apprentices.

Robles Barbecue

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Partch entertained with a barbecue last Sunday night at their home in Robles. John and Jean Wibby showed up with 25 choice steaks and Mr. Partch pulled off a successful first attempt at being chef. Guests at the open air affair were Lt. Valentine Pavlov, Major James King, Captain Alphonse Tucker, Lt. and Mrs. James Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. George Corrigan, and about fifty Valley children, who came to see what was going on, and get a portion of steak.

Singing Program

A program of songs and arias by Miss Anne Ashley, coloratura soprano, was arranged for the Carmel Woman's Club general meeting last Monday afternoon by Mrs. Verne Skillman, program chairman. A petite blonde, with a voice of fine quality and with excellent enunciation, Miss Ashley gave a program of wide variety, making several changes of costume. In ruffled poke bonnet and hoop skirt Miss Ashley sang early English numbers, including "He Loves Me and Coming Through the Rye." As a slim, black-wigged, almond-eyed Oriental maiden in Chinese sheath dresses, she charmed her audience with the amusing "Lady Picking Mulberries," "Rickshaw Man," and ancient Chinese melodies as heard in an Oriental cafe on Pell Street. Arias from Donizetti's "Daughter of the Regiment," including the stirring "Salut a la France" were excellently done by Miss Ashley in martial, tri-color costume. During the singer's intermissions her accompanist, Mr. John Nicholls entertained the audience with piano solos and amusing pianologues.

Mrs. Benjamin G. Johnson, Club President, announced that the Club's Thrift Sale will be held on the last Monday in March, the 29, at the Girl Scout House. It was suggested that useful and attractive articles in good condition be saved for donation to this sale, proceeds from which go to the Club's building fund.

The Club's Bridge Section will meet next Monday afternoon, February 9, at 2:00 p. m. at the Girl Scout House. The section Chairman, Mrs. F. E. Vaughan, announces that the hanging of curtains at the Scout House windows has made the room much more enjoyable for bridge players by reducing glare and noise, and she will be happy to assist club members in finding places at bridge tables.

Douglas School Activities

The Senior class at the Douglas School entertained Mrs. Grace Douglas, director of the school, at a luncheon last week followed by a day spent at the new outpost camp being built on the 77 acres by the Tulareitos Creek in the Carmel Valley.

New enrollment at the Douglas School for the second semester, beginning February 4, includes Yvonne Yutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yutz of Salinas. Yvonne will be a sophomore. Another new enrollee is Barbara Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Scott of San Francisco. Barbara will be a high junior.

Friday evening, Mr. A. H. Fahringer dined with the school after showing colored sound pictures of the Chicago Boys' Club activities. Mr. Fahringer is the regional director of the Boys' Club in the southern part of the state. The students were impressed by the volume of Boys' Club work throughout the country.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Are You "Hobby Happy?"

Funny thing about hobbies... When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modelling!

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers... showed a real interest in his hobby... until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the missus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

Can't think of anything nicer than a kitchen free of that humming sound which means things are being refrigerated. Let your meats and vegetables stay silently fresh with a Servel gas refrigerator.

If you're pounding a typewriter, baby sitting, or just generally gaining weight without knowing why, go see Della Vanney who manages the STAUFFER SYSTEM and let her slim you down with simple easy machine controlled treatments. These take just under an hour, and it is simple enough to run in on your lunch hour, and instead of gulping a fat-mounting chocolate malt, relax with the physical and mental satisfaction that you are losing weight and will be able to swagger about in your new look wardrobe with the tiny waist, and hour glass figure that the new look demands. Call 2101-W for an appointment, which can be made for the evening if you wish.

If your dreams run to entrechats, if your ambitions leap sky high with pirouettes, if your idols are Markova and Eglevsky, there are ballet classes for you or your child at JUNE DELIGHT'S studio, a wonderful huge room 25 x 40, filled with wide mirrors in which you can view your own enchanting (or otherwise) performances. There are three classes for babies, and groups of intermediate and older classes, with piano accompaniment, and toe dancing included with the ballet steps. Or, just for exercise, there is nothing like good ballet stretches.

At the HERITAGE ANTIQUE shop on Monte Verde, there are many new samples of drapery and upholstery materials for your chairs and curtains. The chintzes are glazed and unglazed, in easy subdued colors, and hold many documentary print designs which are copies of old materials. Enchanting for dirdles and evening skirts are gay prints, some bright with butterflies; these are particularly chic when trimmed with sequins or worn with your finest jewels. Your wardrobe or your home can be nicely redecorated and added with these new materials from the HERITAGE ANTIQUE shop.

Five exclusive patterns of Winfield China type pottery are to be found at GUMP'S, Carmel. The pottery is fully vitrified handcraft china in California colors combining the durability of porcelain with the appeal of pottery. Each set comes with covered casseroles, oven proof and attractive enough to grace your dining table. GUMP'S, Carmel.

If you're having trouble finding pineapple, sliced or juiced, on Carmel counters, go down to the CARMEL DRIVE IN GROCERY MARKET and you will find a plentiful supply of this exotic fruit. Your breakfasts will be enhanced and made more interesting with pineapple juice, and all kinds of things can happen to sliced pineapple when it is tossed into salads, used for desserts, or served with roast ham. The CARMEL DRIVE IN GROCERY MARKET is glad to be able to offer you well stocked supplies of this hard to get item.

For your cocktail hours, for your condiment trays, for your general gourmet pleasure, the GARDEN OF ALLAH on Cass street, has an exclusive range of pickles, including Jerusalem artichoke pickles of two varieties, moonstones with onions, olive style pickles with pimiento, pickles with cherries, with almonds, pickled beets with pearl onions, and amusing porcupine pickles stuffed mango style. If you want to make overseas Valentine presents, there are all kinds of tinned goods, butter, roast beef, whole chickens, beef stew, teas, cookies, and candies which will delight those hungry European folk. The GARDEN OF ALLAH asks you to come in and make your selection which they will then package and send for you.

Your best Valentine present could be in the form of an exquisite garnet or ruby ring from WHEATON JEWELERS, or a huge wonderful emerald-cut amethyst, the February stone, or a pair of dainty pearl earrings to go with her new black ballerina skirt. And for him, on Valentine's Day, there are big-solid masculine rings set with rubies or amethysts, and a wide range of smart looking accessories, in the way of cuff links, clips, knives, pen sets. With Valentine's Day on your mind, go into WHEATONS at 487 Alvarado in Monterey for that special gift.

To keep out spring breezes, and give a smart swagger to your skirt and blouse arrangement, are short Leeds of New York coats at HOWARD'S in Monterey, designed and styled for California, of 100% pure wool, and priced at $49.95. The coats come in smart solid colors, some with one whopping button at the throat for dramatic effect, some are in plaids, checks, and stripes, good show-off business for plain grey flannels, a great many have flared backs, and some are dressier with sequins and applique work on the wool. A big hit is the white wool, buttoned down front with gold rimmed buttons, and swan-curved in to give a real swagger effect.

A good place to stop for convenient counter lunches of salads and ice creams and sandwiches, and delicious packages of home made candies and crunchy popcorn, is the recently opened KAR-MELKORN shop on Alvarado in Monterey run by Ed, Mel, and Frank Isenberger, that is, two brothers and their father. The KAR-MELKORN is featuring beautiful heart shaped boxes of daintily packaged Valentine candies for your Valentine gifts. You will like the clean counter, the efficient service and the delicious odor pervading of home cooked candies.

Sentimental heart shaped vases, pierced by arrows, and filled with an arrangement of spring flowers, can be had at the FLOR DE MONTEREY on Franklin Street, for your Valentine gift, or you can purchase just the containers and make your own floral arrangement. For those you wish to remember, send corsages formed of any of the new spring flowers, and for the sweetest little corsage, to be carried, to be pinned, a bunch of old fashioned violets. A note for your home decoration would be the long slender cut stalks curled with pink peach blossoms to be set in great spectacular bowls.

Duke Taft, no relation to Robert, says, "At first I didn't like RING's chilburgers. I thought they contained too much home made chili. Imagine my surprise and delight when I learned that they are made with Gebhardt's canned chili and that I still don't like them." The above unsolicited testimonial was really unsolicited. RING's, Scott and Pacific, at Monterey.

Highest bidders for the market stock of the Carmel Booksellers, was HOLMAN'S department store in Pacific Grove, where all the stock is being moved to be put on sale in the Book Den at HOLMAN'S on the second floor under the management of Mr. Alexander, who lives in Carmel, and is well known by everyone here. As you will remember, the Booksellers had a comprehensive assortment of books, all of them in excellent condition, and you can make some fine library additions at this sale.

Edith Griffin at the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP on Ocean Avenue suggests for your Valentine gift a Give-A-Book Certificate which can be purchased at the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP and redeemed anywhere in the United States. The certificate makes it possible for you to give books to anyone, anywhere.

Heart bait at Valentine time are the prancing Cocker, Dachshund, and Kerry blue Terrier puppies, who will gambol for you, tease you, and drive you mad to own them all at once. Test yourself for toughness and see if you can walk out of JEZEBEL'S pet shop without two wriggling angels under each arm. The puppies are all registered stock; the cockers are doggy blondes and reds. Amusement bait for your captured puppies are the dog foods, toys, dishes and combs on JEZEBEL'S shelves.

Lush colored photographs are, after all, only substitutes for the real thing; go into MAC'S POULTRY SHOP on San Carlos and get your chicken poundage in fricasees, colored and white, .57 and .47 a pound respectively and your roasters and fryers. And MAC'S always has fresh ranch eggs.

Clever play clothes in sanforized denim are now at PUTNAM & RAGGETT'S. In either blue or deep rose, you will find sets of smart jacket, brassiere, shorts, skirts, and slacks, with which number you can make mixtures to take you beaching, dancing, coke slinging, and sun bathing. The skirts are new flare, new length, the jackets are long with sturdy pockets, and the brassieres are well lined; nor do the colors fade from sunning or washing. You can shift colors, change tops, jump from slacks to skirts, and have infinite outfits from your five piece ensemble.

Line up for loot at the VILLAGE JEWELERS: Elgin American compacts and cigarette cases in gold and silver, with exquisite engraving, and raised golden butterflies floating over compact with raised golden cupid shooting a golden arrow. Then there are bracelets, earrings, necklaces, and a new line of hand-made Mexican jewelry, solid stuff, stunning. A lot of the Mexican line features Mexican amethysts, the February, Valentine stone, and a particularly handsome set of necklace and earrings is studded with these lavender crystal-like stones.

The hidden CARMEL RADIO AND SOUND shop is not being exclusive on purpose; several San Carlos driveways lead to it, and it is centered right behind Ricketts and Freeman Sport Shop. Since it's so hard to find, Mr. Gookin conducts a free pick up and delivery service of radios and such in the Carmel vicinity; you can phone in for this, or go exploring for the shop; and it's fun when you find it. The primary purpose of the CARMEL RADIO AND SOUND is to custom build radios and record players to your exact dimension, design, idea; Mr. Gookin often travels about the country to install his radios, and will leave in March to place one in the Western Inn in El Paso, Texas. Mr. Gookin is also authorized agent for parts and repairs for Scott, Philco, and Mallory radios.

Fray Pruf slips have just arrived at GAIL COUPE's shop on San Carlos near fifth; the slips are new length, in rayon and nylon satin, some are tailored, some lace trimmed, and all have a new staunch but delicate lace-like seam. Phone 666-W.

A talented crew of four operators and Mrs. Pat Patterson, manager, carries on at the EL PASEO BEAUTY STUDIO, where spring coiffures are shaped to your head under expert scissoring, and permanents, tints, dyes, and waves are given with loving detail perfection to make you a well-coiffed woman. Short hair is becoming daily more fashionable, and has always been most functional. See what a fresh clipping will do for your morale and comfort.

A Ross custom designed and built radio-phonograph, different from all the rest, is being shown at GUMP'S interior design department on Dolores, under the direction of Mr. Hank Brogiotti. Cased in an oblong block of Burmese teak, with provisions for television and wire recording, this first and only post war machine is built for tone, and superb water-clear tone it gives; 26 long lasting tubes assure that every instrument in the orchestra is heard and voice is incredibly polished and smooth. The sound difference with other radio-victrolas is comparable with viewing an old blurred movie reel. Concert comfort can be enjoyed by placing up to ten intermixed

10 or 12 inch records on the machine, going to bed, relaxing with the music and knowing that everything will be automatically turned off. Record collectors and music lovers are cordially invited to see the radio by appointment, which can be made in the evening if you wish.

Along with regular decorative items, GUMP'S interior department also has custom designed silk screen and block print fabrics by such well known artists as Jimmy West, Vesta Vetter, and Helen Dunham, and supplies custom designed and built furniture.

Valley Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blythe of Burlingame and Mr. Raymond Armsby of San Francisco were the guests of Mrs. Henry Potter Russell at her Carmel Valley home over the week end.

Twins Party

Celebrating the birthday of her five year old twins, Gregor and Tanya, Mrs. Louise Pontukoff invited around twenty children to her home on San Antonio and Seventh Saturday afternoon at five o'clock. The children had a merry time eating orange cake and ice cream, and playing innumerable games. Among the children invited were: Michael Conklin, Alan Mahoney, Eric Chrzan, Audrey Degnan, Patsy Wagner, George Hazelwood, Candy Hazard, Andy Andrews, Datha Dodge, Toni Mastin, Nancy Lofton, Robbie and Kim Kimball, Jimmy Bliss, Nikki Shorey, Mary Kay Denman, Gordon Parker, Jr., John Ruskell, and Allan Taylor.

With the departure of the children, the adults began to gather and soon another party was in full progress. A great punch bowl and hors d'oeuvres, supplied the refreshments.

Included in the guest list, were: Mrs. Pontukoff's mother, Mrs. Charles Cleveland of Los Gatos, Mr. Barnet Segal, Mr. Louis Nicolaud, Mrs. C. Hazard, Miss Elaine Carter, Mr. George O'Neil, Mr. Phil Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vial, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sumner, Dr. Eric Berne, Mrs. Manette Franke, Mr. Hal Masson, Mr. Jorgen Bering, Mr. Remo Scardigli, Miss Nancy Tackett, Mr. Michael Franke, Mr. and Mrs. Muri Ogden, Mrs. E. Art Notes

Caroline Gleick Rosene, who fashions silver and other metaled jewelry in San Francisco, was down visiting on the Monterey Peninsula last week end.

Phil Pinner, San Francisco artist, spent the week end in Monterey and Carmel.

More Murals

Due to his agent's phone call, Phil Nesbitt left for San Francisco early Monday morning to get more information about the two new mural jobs the agent has found for him. He doesn't know the name of the hotels yet, but he does know that the Rumpus Room in Fresno and the Powder Room in San Francisco are the two unnamed rooms that will hold his future murals. Mr. Nesbitt is at present working on bright cavalier murals at the Barbecue Inn.

Mrs. Ney in Highlands

Frances Ney was here for the week end visiting her many Carmel friends, and staying with Mrs. Richard Wright in the Highlands. Mrs. Ney lives on her mother's ranch in Santa Clara with her two children, Haven and Jocko.

Transportation Arranged

Mrs. Ada McGee has been appointed transportation chairman for the Sunday afternoon meeting at the Methodist Church in Pacific Grove. If you have space in your car, call Mrs. McGee, 681-G, or vice versa, if you need a ride, be sure to let her know and she will co-ordinate space with rides required.

New Mel-O-Dee Manager

Greeting you from behind the counter of the Mel-o-Dee Flower shop will be Mrs. William F. Hutchinson, who has recently come to Carmel and, the old story, likes it so well she wants to live here.

PTA Meeting-Founder's Day

The February meeting of the Carmel Parent Teacher Association will be held in the Sunset School cafeteria, Tuesday, February 10, at 3:00 p. m. This will be the annual Founder's Day meeting, commemorating the 51 years of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Speaker for the afternoon will be Mrs. Dana Thomas, who has been active in Parent Teacher work for the past 33 years. Mrs. Thomas, mother of Mrs. Mark Raggett, has appeared in "Who's Who" as an educator, world traveler, and a teacher within the Arctic circle. She will present the story of the founding of the National Congress in 1898, by Alice Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, the achievements and aims of its member groups, and the envisioned advancements in the field of child welfare. The title of her talk will be "Founder's Day, the Organization, Its Purposes and Accomplishments."

Tea will be served under the direction of Mrs. Burton K. Doolittle, and a sitter for pre-school children will be provided, though it is requested that all mothers register their children with the sitter. All parents attending are asked to register so that the teacher credited with the most registrations will be eligible to receive the book prize for her room.

Sunset Clothing Drive

February 16 to 27, the Sunset School will hold its annual clothing drive for the Save the Children Federation, Inc. Mrs. Edna Lockwood is in charge of the drive, and urges Carmel to continue beating its last year's record. "In 1946, Carmel sent in 1,300 pounds, in 1947, 1,424 pounds, and in 1948, what?" she asks. It's all up to the good will of the people of Carmel. The students always go overboard on the drive, compete in their rooms, keeping a bag for clothing in each room, and dedicating an assembly program for the welfare of needy children. Any clothing from men and women is acceptable."

Military Training Discussed

Another lively panel discussion will be held by the Youth Fellowship group of the Church of the Wayfarer when it meets Sunday night at 6:00 p. m. The discussion will be around, over, and about the very debatable subject of Universal Military Training and will be in charge of Victor Harber, captain of group 3, and freshman at the Salinas Junior College. Speakers on the panel will be Harry Watson, Ben Viljoen, and Art Harber, all students at the high school. Following the discussion will be Dr. K. Fillmore Gray's class of questions and answers on the church.

Pledged To Allenian

Jane Coughlin was one of 125 San Jose State College women accepted into eight campus sororities recently. She is pledged to Allenian society.

George Outland Lectures

George Outland, former Congressman from this District, will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Democratic Women's Club, which will be held at the Sunset Cafeteria lunch room Friday, February 13, at 8:00 p. m. Subject of Mr. Outland's address will be Democratic Principles in California.

Return From Heidelberg

Guests of Mrs. Dorothy R. Skelley have been Major and Mrs. Louis deLesdernier, and their two children, Peggy and Nancy, returning for a Carmel visit after 18 months in Germany, where Major deLesdernier was stationed at the Heidelberg military post.

According to Mrs. deLesdernier, Heidelberg was an enchanting town and they were most happy living there. The city had never been bombed, which might account for the lack of animosity on the part of the population toward foreigners, though their psychological state was one of overwhelming depression due to the confused future of the country. Living was comfortable, though rather expensive, says Mrs. deLesdernier, and living costs would just about equal those of the States; the people, though not starving, lacked the staples of fats and sugars to make the pastries and types of food they were accustomed to eating.

The weather was mild, almost like Carmel, though with slight snow in the winter, and the people, if not fashionably dressed, were at least shabbily comfortable, the women always having fur coats to sport in the winters.

Major and Mrs. deLesdernier were taken on a round of parties and visits during their stay here. Monday, Miss P. J. Bowen entertained them with a cocktail party, and later that evening, their hostess, Mrs. Skelley, gave a dinner party inviting Mrs. Cynthia Seaborne, Major Dick Taylor, Miss P. J. Bowen, Colonel and Mrs. Bill Dodds, and Lt. Colonel Harry Walton. On Tuesday they had cocktails with Miss Peggy Long and Mrs. Inez Garner, were then entertained by Miss Jane Ellen Parker, and then whisked to the home of Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Joseph Wells for more cocktails.

We Need China More Than China Needs Us, Says Dr. O. S. Morgan

ship it through the submarine-infested Mediterranean. With a record as imposing as this there is no wonder that Dr. Morgan belittles political borders when considering the nourishment of mankind.

"As individuals, all we can do is to support our leaders who have a wide-angled vision, leaders who combine intelligence with a reasonable point of view. UNRRA is like an axe that has split the log, but the wedge is still imbedded. Now we must establish a follow-through procedure to make worthwhile all that has been done as a beginning. To abandon the effort now would be to waste all that has been accomplished and endanger international co-operation besides.

"A high quality of inspection must go along with any help we give, for it is not enough to provide capital alone. Know-how is especially required. If we are wise we can make the northern boundaries of China our own front line of production safety. Those half a billion people, covering several thousand square miles of territory, are clamoring for democracy, and they are developing many different kinds of communism in a hope to find something that will fulfill their needs. Of all the kinds of communism in the world today there is only one language they have in common, and that is the fact that they all receive direction from Moscow. It is not too early for us in this country to consider these matters.

"The Chinese are highly socialized," Dr. Morgan continued. "They can live with skunks and like it. They are gracious even to those Americans who consider themselves superior. But they are a proud people and should be respected. One example of the modern outlook is found in Dr. C. Y. Yen, who is now in this country lecturing for a mass education program in China and he has held audiences spellbound while discussing problems of China.

"To do justice to the greatness of the Chinese people we should send our finest experts, but only those who are also men of quality. Money, materials and experts, all are needed there, but mostly administrators who are masters of the Christian ethic are needed. Our reward will come in future years when, without the help of China, this country would go into a decline."

Pon Chung Only One Who May Build On Twenty-five Foot Lot

Pon Chung is the only property owner in Carmel who may build on a 25-foot lot. According to the 25-foot lot ordinance, which had its first reading at the city council meeting Wednesday night, only those citizens who own a single 25-foot lot and no more may build on it; if more than one lot is owned by the same person the following arrangements must be made to qualify the property as a building site: two adjacent 25-foot lots may be combined to make one building site; three adjacent 25-foot lots may be divided to make two building sites; for a greater number of lots, multiples of the above arrangements are allowed.

Of all the 25-foot lot owners, Pon Chung is the only one who owns only one, lone, lot; hence the only one who may build thereon.

Other business of the meeting was routine. It included a reminder issued by the mayor that the property owners of Tenth and Eleventh avenues have made no move to collect contributions of 75 cents a foot for the improvement of those streets, in accordance with their expressed wishes to the council last summer. If they are still of the same mind, it will be necessary for them to make arrangements with the city shortly, for the work, if it is to be done, will have to begin as soon as possible after the rains and before summer.

SAVE ELECTRICITY

THE DROUGHT HAS BROUGHT ABOUT AN EMERGENCY IN THE STATE'S POWER SUPPLY!

WE ARE COMPELLED TO ASK OUR CUSTOMERS TO CURTAIL THE USE OF ELECTRICITY IN THEIR BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENTS, ON THEIR FARMS AND IN THEIR FACTORIES.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP

IF YOU RUN A COMMERCIAL ESTABLISHMENT:

1. Turn off all window lights and electric signs
2. Use no exterior or interior floodlighting.
3. Use electric power elsewhere only when necessary.

IF YOU RUN A FACTORY:

1. Curtail power consumption wherever you can.
2. Avoid use of electricity between the hours of 4 and 8 p. m., the peak load hours, shifting operations to other hours wherever possible.
3. Check your factory and offices to eliminate all waste of electric power.

IF YOU ARE AT HOME:

1. Light no unused rooms.
2. Use appliances for as short periods as possible.

IF YOU ARE A FARMER:

1. Shut down your pumping plants wherever possible between 4 and 8 p.m., shifting your irrigation schedule to other hours of day or night.
2. Use electrically-powered equipment only when absolutely necessary.

BECAUSE of the record drought there is an abnormal irrigation pumping load in the rural areas. In Northern and Central California this unseasonable demand for electricity now approximates 200,000 horsepower and comes at a time when under normal conditions our system load would be decreasing. The situation in the valleys would, of course, be relieved by heavy rain. Until such relief comes we must ask our customers to curtail their use of electricity in every possible way. Our customers can be assured that we have done and will continue to do everything possible to meet the problems brought about by the record drought.

EVERY KILOWATT HOUR YOU WILL SAVE WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE GENERAL WELFARE.
